Physician’s Vocation Program

Principal Investigator: John Hardt, PhD

Co-Investigators/collaborators: Michael McCarthy, PhD, Emily Anderson, PhD, Thu Nguyen, MPH (former public health student), Vivian Irizary Gatell, MD (former medical student, now resident), William Adams, MA

The Physician’s Vocation Program is a multi-year, elective program for medical students exploring the intersection of faith and medicine. Students complete formal coursework as well as guided spiritual direction. The evaluation consists of a multi-year survey of PVP and non-PVP students to compare sense of calling, burnout, empathy, specialty choice, and other factors.

Publication