Classical test theory and item response theory analysis of psychiatry examinations

Principal Investigator: David C. Schilling, MD
Co-investigators/collaborators: William Adams, MA

The goal of this project was to statistically analyze the psychiatry clerkship departmental exam so as to determine if the pass/fail cut score that had been established was reasonable or if it should be revised. This project was completed and as a result it was decided to adjust the pass/fail cut score by a small amount.