The Assessing Clinical Ethics Skills (ACES) Tool Project

Principal Investigator: Katherine Wasson, PhD, MPH
Co-Investigators and Collaborators: Michael McCarthy, PhD, Kayhan Parsi, JD, PhD, Mark Kuczewski, PhD, Viva Jo Siddall, MS, PhD (c), Robert Johnson, MEd, Rejoice Jebamalaiss, MBA

The field of clinical ethics consultation is in process of evaluating its standards and core competencies in practice. Faculty at Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine have created the Assessing Clinical Ethics Skills (ACES) tool to evaluate the performance of clinical ethics consultants in a controlled educational environment of simulated clinical ethics consultations. This study aims to assess the effectiveness of a new ACES website the training it includes which will be publicly available.

Peer Reviewed Publication

Peer Reviewed Presentations

2016 Evaluating the Interpersonal Skills of Clinical Ethics Consultation: the Assessing Clinical Ethics Skills (ACES) Tool Launch. International Conference on Clinical Ethics Consultation (ICCEC), Washington, DC.

2015 Training Residents to Address Ethical Issues: Application of the Assessing Clinical Ethics Skills (ACES) Evaluation Tool. Association of American Medical Colleges, Joint Meeting of the Central Group on Educational Affairs/Central Group on Student Affairs/Central Organization of Student Representatives, Columbus, Ohio.

2014 Development of the Assessing Clinical Ethics Skills (ACES) Tool, American Society for Bioethics and Humanities Annual Conference, San Diego, California.