SEMINAR SERIES

Advocating for Children's Access to Care

Join us in welcoming the Director and students from the Health Justice Project clinic, Loyola School of Law, for an advocacy-focused session that will enable participants to:

- Conceptualize the link between child poverty & health using the social determinants framework;
- Understand the history & purpose of Children's Medicaid (called EPSDT for Early & Periodic Screening, Diagnostic & Treatment);
- Articulate the coverage requirements under EPSDT;
- Identify patient & upstream advocacy tools.
